

Eric Redlinger

86 South 8th St.
Brooklyn, NY 11211

eric art ecumedesjours.com
(replace art with @)
Tel: 646.207.2083

EXPERTISE:

- C, obj-C coding experience; Mac & iPhone/iPad development
- Streaming media programming and deployment / advanced knowledge of protocols and technologies
- Wireless networking, mobile webcasting and IP based teleconferencing, telepresence
- System/Server admin experience
- Management and teaching experience
- Multi-lingual: English (native), German, French, Dutch, Greek

RECENT PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE:

- |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |           |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Centrl, Inc., New York, NYCo-founder                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 6/08-     |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Mobile apps development lead for cutting-edge location-based social networking platform</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                              |           |
| 10Base-T Interactive, New York, NYStreaming Media Consultant / Interaction Design                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 1/03-     |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Implementation of content management and streaming media solutions</li><li>• Over 20 award-winning Mac and iPhone projects completed</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                 |           |
| Hunter College, CUNY, New York, NYSystems Administrator                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 2004-2006 |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Network administration for the Film and Media department at Hunter College, New York</li><li>• Implemented custom network-based solutions for students including interactive tools for blogging and media creation</li></ul>                                                                                   |           |
| Waag Society for Old and New Media, Amsterdam, HollandSoftware Development / End-User Training (telecommute from NYC)                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 2000-2005 |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Worked with a team of media artists and software developers to create and implement next-generation protocols for streaming media and live interaction over the internet</li><li>• Conducted workshops and master classes internationally on using real-time digital media in collaborative contexts</li></ul> |           |

EDUCATION:

Schola Cantorum Basiliensis, Basel, Switzerland, 1996/97
Graduate study in musicology and historical performance practice for medieval and renaissance music

Musikhochschule (Conservatory), Frankfurt, Germany, 1995/96
Graduate study in music theory and composition

Middlebury College, Middlebury, VT., Double B.A. degree 1993
Psychology and German major; Music Composition minor

Deerfield Academy, Deerfield, MA., graduated 1989

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

Master Classes and Workshops–

Transmediale Digital Art Festival (Berlin, Germany) / Feb 1–10, 2004
Presentation: “Building a Collaborative Digital Community” with Keiko Uenishi, Daniel Smith, Jeremy Schaller

Interactive Telecommunications Program / Tisch School of the Arts / Mar, 2003
KeyWorx presentation and workshop, with Sher Doruff

Ecole Superieure de L’Image (Angouleme, France) / Feb 11–15, 2002
Taught an extended workshop on live image processing and streaming video for puppeteers

Location One Digital Media Lab (NYC) / Jun 2002
KeyWorx workshop / directed and coached a subsequent connected performance with artists in Amsterdam

Harvestworks Digital Media Arts Center (NYC) / Jun 2000
KeyWorx master class for experienced media artists

Academic Teaching Experience–

Parsons School of Design – Digital Design Dept / 2004
Adjunct course on telepresence and collaborative media

City College / Media and Communication Arts Dept / Dec 2003
Guest lecture on wireless internet and convergence with wireless devices, with Aras Özgün

Beacon High School (NYC) / Mar–Jun, 1999
Taught web site creation basics for high school students under the motto:
“help educate, activate, volunteer and empower via the net”

PUBLICATIONS:

IntelligentAgent Magazine: “New Media Counterpoint” / published Mar, 2004
<http://rhizome.org/thread.rhiz?thread=12581&text=24229>
http://www.intelligentagent.com/archive/Vol4\_No1\_djvj\_redlinger.htm